DEFINITIVE CARE:

For immature teeth with wide open apices, place the tooth in doxycycline (100mg/20ml saline) before replantation for 5 minutes.

Pulpal revascularization may occur and definitive care consists of monitoring radiographically on a regular basis for evidence of pulpal revascularization and continued root formation.

For immature teeth in which revascularization does not take place, apexification procedures are followed by nonsurgical root canal treatment or regenerative endodontics.

For mature teeth, timely (within seven to 10 days of replantation) nonsurgical root canal treatment that includes intracanal procedures to minimize resorption (short-term calcium hydroxide seven to 10 days) is indicated following replantation.

Primary teeth are not suitable for replantation.
